HETCH HETCHY PROJECT MAY BRING WATER FLOW TO SAN FRANCISCO SOON

By CHRIS RUNCKEL,
Secretary Alameda County Water District.

The decision made during the past week to lay an emergency pipe line from Tesla to the Alameda creek near Sunol means that Hetch Hetchy water will be flowing into San Francisco next year. During the coming year the pipe line, (the first unit of the big system), will be laid across the San Joaquin valley from Oakdale to Tesla, a distance of forty-seven miles. This is the easiest part of the system to construct and will go ahead rapidly and be finished within a year. At the same time the emergency line from Tesla to Sunol will be built and will be ready to carry the water as soon as the valley line is finished.

Already twenty miles of the entire twenty-eight miles are dug. By the end of next month three-fourths of the big tunnel will be bored. At the rate of 3000 feet a month the remaining seven miles will be holed through inside of a year. Another year will probably be required to concrete the surface of the tunnel and put it in final shape before the water is turned into it. The twenty-five miles of tunnel from Tesla to Sunol, when finished, will be the longest continuous tunnel ever attempted by man. Not only will Alameda county be the scene of the longest tunnel in the world but the Hetch Hetchy system, when completed, will take its place as one of the marvels of the world.

Entirely Feasible.

We hear strange stories about quicksand and yawning gaps and caverns produced by slides and creaking timbers caused by swelling rocks, etc., with fears expressed that the tunnel may have to be abandoned. Chief Engineer O'Shaughnessy assures us that the remaining miles of tunnel yet to be dug offer no greater difficulties than those that have already been successfully met. They will just be bored through and made safe.

Drainage Water Safe.

Another fear often expressed is that the tunnel will drain the source of many natural springs and even some wells. Every long

NEW ADDITION IS ADDED TO STAFF OF POST OFFICE

CONGRATULATIONS are pouring down upon Mrs. C. M. Orcutt, postmistress for Niles, upon the latest addition to the population of Niles—Jeanette Lucille Orcutt, who arrived Sunday, June 14, weighing seven pounds even. Mother and daughter are reported in the best of health, although Mr. Orcutt is feeling rather weak!

It is anticipated that the young lady will be trained early in life to know the difference between first, second, third and fourth class mails—not males—and to be able to tell at a single glance that a letter will take four cents instead of two cents. . . . that post office box rent is always due on time....and that mail should always arrive just in time to miss the train connections.

Civic Body Plans Special Program For Next Meeting

A construuctive program toward the development of a "trade-at-home" spirit will be presented at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon next Tuesday, when representatives of the California State Industries League are to be present to urge the purchase and use, wherever possible, of California grown and California made products.

Albert G. Burns, managing director of the league, and Thomas W. Martin, extension director, will speak on the subjects "Immediate Prosperity for Niles," and "Sustain the Payroll" respectively. The two speakers have informed the local chamber of commerce that they will bring a quantity of merchandise samples of California manufacturers for distribution.

It was decided at the meeting held last Tuesday to urge every member of the Niles Chamber of Commerce to be present next Tuesday, June 23, and an invitation is also extended to the wives of the members to be present. Members of chambers of commerce from all neighboring communities are also to be extended an invitation to be present.

The main object of the California State Industries league is to acquaint the public with the wide variety and fine quality of articles manufactured in the state, and to show the people of California how they can "create their own prosperity" by adopting a policy of reciprocity in patronizing home industries. Exhibition rooms are maintained by the league at 1448 Webster street, Oakland, where California grown and manufactured products are displayed free of charge.

Meetings such as the one to be held here next Tuesday are being held throughout the state as part of an educational campaign being carried on by the league, and president F. V. Jones of the local chamber urges a strong turn-out for the occasion.

SIGNATURES PAVE WAY FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PROJECT IMMEDIATELY

Enthusiastic Report Made by R. Blacow at Meet On Tuesday.

That work on the extension of First street to connect with the Alvarado road will commence in the very near future, probably next week, was the very encouraging report made to members of the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their meeting held on Tuesday noon, when R. Blacow reported that the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn and M. and Mrs. D. McDonnell had been affixed to the necessary deeds on Monday.

Action will probably be taken by the county board of supervisors at their meeting today as to the exact time work will commence, providing the necessary consent of the planning commission is obtained. At a recent meeting, county supervisor Ralph V. Richmond and county surveyor George Posey assured Mr. and Mrs. Shinn that work on the new extension would commence immediately the deeds were signed.

Mr. and Mrs. Shinn signed two deeds, one donating the necessary land for the extension of First street through to the limits of property owned by the California Nursery company, and the other relative to the taking over by the county of the balance of the street between First and Second streets in front of the Veterans' Memorial building. According to the report made at the meeting Tuesday, the two owners who so generously donated their property for the extension are desirous that work be commenced as soon as possible, and their wishes appear to express the general sentiment of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

Work Beyond Nursery

The Niles Chamber of Commerce have assured the county board of supervisors that they will do their best to secure the sanction of all property owners beyond the California Nursery grounds to deed the extra footage necessary to widen the existing road to sixty feet, an extra five feet on each side.

The chamber of commerce feel that in view of the very public-spirited action of both Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell and Mr. and Mrs. Shinn in voluntarily deeding their land for this much needed civic improvement, that the balance of property owners affected should also show their co-operation by assisting the hard-working chamber committee in every possible manner, and in this manner, help rush the balance of the project through to a speedy conclusion.

A unanimous vote of thanks was extended Mr. and Mrs. Shinn and Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell by the chamber of commerce for their co-operation and their evident civic pride. The members present also gave a rising vote of thanks to R. Blacow, who has devoted much time and energy in the interests of the extension, and through whose efforts the project has reached the present successful stage.

CREAMERY DRIVER INSTANTLY KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN

Stanford Davis Apparently Fails to See Signal Working

Crashing directly into the cab of the truck operated by Stanford Davis, 35, of Oakland, the Southern Pacific extra freight, westbound, snuffed out the driver's life at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning at the grade crossing on the Livermore road.

Davis apparently failed to see the wig-wag, or to hear the approach of the freight and drove squarely into the path of the oncoming locomotive, according to eye witnesses. The train was travelling at a slow rate of speed and stopped at Hall's warehouse.

Davis was thrown clear of the wreckage and landed some twenty feet from the road and down an embankment. His spine was broken. Death was instantaneous, according to Dr. J. Hal Cope, of Pleasanton, who was called to the scene of the accident.

The dead man had been employed by the American Creamery company as a driver of its ice cream truck. He delivered ice cream daily, and was well known throughout Washington township. Davis was en route to Livermore at the time of the accident, having just left Pleasanton after delivering ice cream to several places.

The body was removed to an undertaking establishment and later taken to Oakland. Davis is survived by his widow and three children. The truck was hauled away by Jack Taylor.

While the cab and engine of the truck were completely demolished, the rear compartment was intact and the ice cream undamaged.

The train was in charge of J. Chrystal, conductor, and M. E. Katchun, engineer. Both men are from Oakland.

PETERSON BUILDING IS ENDANGERED BY FIRE

Prompt response by the Niles fire department to an alarm turned in early Friday afternoon averted what appeared to be a very serious situation. A pile of old lumber and materials at the rear of the Peterson building had become ignited, and the flames had spread to the back wall of the frame building, when the prompt attention of the firemen extinguished the blaze. The conflagration apparently started by flying cinders from a nearby garbage burner.

Had the blaze gained a little more headway before the alarm was turned in, the entire Peterson building would doubtless have been razed, and many adjacent structures would have been endangered.

YOUNG OFFENDER FACING CHARGE OF AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Youth Arrested Near Los Angeles on Way to Sister's Home

Charles Lang, of Oakland, 16 years of age, appeared before Judge A. Silva, of Niles, on Tuesday afternoon, charged with stealing an automobile owned by George Stock, of 5049 Dasey street, Oakland, and was sent to Juvenile Court for trial.

Lang maintained that Stock gave him a lift near Niles, and that while the owner of the car was in a service station, he drove the car on to his home, collected some clothes and money, and dove on to Fresno, where he worked for three days, obtaining sufficient money to continue his journey. He stated he intended visiting his sister, who lives near Los Angeles, and he was within a few miles of his destination when finally apprehended.

Peace Disturber Fined

Al Nevis, of Newark, pled guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace, and was fined $25. Tom Furtado, of Centerville, Barney Estevan and Val Peterson, both of Hayward, entered pleas of not guilty on the same charge, and will appear before Judge Silva for trial next Tuesday. The boys were arrested and charged with creating a disturbance and fighting at a local dance hall, the complaint being filed by the manager of the dance.

WESTERN PACIFIC APPLIES FOR EXTRA TIME EXTENSION

Desire Added Period of Six Months to Begin Construction.

Officials of the Western Pacific-California railroad company have requested the interstate commerce commission for an extension of six months in which to commence the construction of the Niles-Redwood City-San Francisco all-rail line, and also a similar extension for completion of the project.

In the application, the railroad company stated that further time is required to negotiate the purchase of necessary rights of way, also the joint use of the Quint street line in the vicinity of Islais creek, San Francisco. Further time is also needed to conclude an agreement with the Southern Pacific railroad company for the use of the Dumbarton railroad bridge and tracks adjacent thereto.

It was also stated that the Western Pacific desires to construct the entire line between San Francisco and Niles, or between San Francisco and Redwood City, under one contract. It is pointed out that the location of the line depends entirely on whether or not the Dumbarton bridge of the Southern Pacific is to be used, and it is reported that negotiations between the two companies are progressing satisfactorily.

The commission's original permit ordered the Western Pacific to commence work by April 1, but a ninety-day reprieve was granted the company when it was ascertained that negotiations with the Southern Pacific had not been completed. The ninety-day reprieve expired on June 1, and the company have now been given until December 1 in which to begin construction.

When the interstate commission granted the railroad permission to build the thirty-three mile extension of its main line, its decision estimated that forty-five per cent of the construction cost would be eliminated if joint trackage rights over the Southern Pacific bridge and a few miles of track at each end of the span could be secured. Cost of the project, including construction of a new bridge, had been fixed at $7,997,353. Joint trackage rights would reduce the cost to $4,392,352, it was estimated.

PARALLEL PARKING IS SUGGESTED AS ACCIDENT REMEDY

Dangers of Bottle Neck Cause Auto Wreck On Monday

Automobiles owned by D. Martinez, of Niles, and W. L. Powers, of Colorado, collided in front of the postoffice on Monday afternoon, the Ford coupe owned by Powers getting the worst of the argument, having a broken front wheel and a bent axle to show, as against a torn off hub cap and a few scratches sustained by the Essex sedan driven by Martinez.

Powers stated he was forced into the center of the road by a machine which passed him on the inside, and Martinez, driving toward San Jose, was given the alternative of either hitting Power's machine or a car parked diagonally on the west side of the street.

Civic Action

The Niles Chamber of Commerce have recently been attempting to arrive at a solution to prevent accidents to automobiles and pedestrians at this dangerous bottle neck, and a proposition relative to widening the street is to be brought up at the next meeting.

Correspondence has been held between the chamber and Louie Eich, of the state motor vehicle department, with reference to the high rate of speed with which motorists pass this danger spot. During the past week, a motorcycle officer has rendered valuable aid, in the estimation of the chamber of commerce and a letter to Mr. Eich thanking him for his co-operation was ordered sent at the meeting held Tuesday.

Editor's note: If owners of stores in this particular block, and patrons of such stores, including the postoffice, would park their automobiles parallel instead of diagonal, a decided step would be made in the solving of this problem, and the hazzards of accidents to both machines and pedestrians would be greatly reduced.)

Today's Scripture LESSON

By Rev. John R. Stevenson

Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you. O ye of little faith? Matt. vi. 30.

I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever. Ps. lii. 8.

Calmly we look behind us, on joys and sorrows past,
We know that all is mercy now,
and shall be well at last;
Calmly we look before us—we fear no future ill,
Enough for safety and for peace,
if Thou art with us still.

CHANGES VITALLY AFFECT WELFARE WORK IN TOWNSHIP

Length of Residence in State and County Affected

According to F. V. Jones, of Niles, president of the Southern Alameda county Welfare association, Washington Township is vitally affected by recent amendments to the act providing for maintenance and support, in certain cases, of indigent, incompetent and incapacitated persons, other than persons adjudged insane and confined within state hospitals.

The amendments stipulate that such persons desiring relief must have resided in the county for one year, instead of three months as formerly required and must have been a resident in the state for three years instead of one year as before. The new act will take effect as from July 1.

Washington Township is represented on the southern Alameda county Welfare board by Frank T. Dusterberry, of Centerville, together with F. V. Jones, of Niles who officiates as president of the board. Pleasanton also has two representatives, Mrs. J. Smallwood and Ernest Schween. Mrs. Laura Elsey, of Centerville, is field worker for Washington Township, and headquarters for the local welfare work are at Hayward.

Amendments to the original act also make it a misdemeanor for anybody to bring into a county or state any such people who are not lawful residents according to the new time limits, knowing them to be dependent on the county for support and financial aid.

ANTICIPATE DROP IN APRICOT CROP TO BELOW NORMAL

Agricultural Statistician Expects Decrease of 85,000 Tons

According to estimates compiled by E. E. Kaufman, state federal agricultural statistician, California's fruit crop will be generally below normal this year throughout the major portions of the state. In apricots, a 215,000-ton crop is expected, compared with last year's 300,000 tons, of which 8,300 were unharvested. The local crop, although apparently holding up to the average of past years in quantity, is expected to be a little below the normal in size and quality. However, cots grown in Washington Township and vicinity are a late harvesting crop, and a decided improvement may be noted before picking and marketing the crop commences.

Local canneries are at present working on apricots grown in the San Joaquin valley district, and packers in that district this year are generally quoting prices on grade, although in most cases growers are given the option of selling on a plan similar to that used last year. In some cases prices on Tiltons are being quoted only on grade. Recent prices quoted in the valley district were averaging as follows: Standards, 4c pound; choice, 6c; extra choice Tiltons, 7c to 7½c; extra choice Blenheims and Royals, 7½c; fancy, 10.

These prices might prove interesting, for comparison purposes, to local growers. Only a small part of the cots grown in the San Joaquin valley is to be canned, the bulk of the crop being available for drying.

It is expected that the price for local-grown cots will range somewhere in the neighborhood of $35 a ton for cots averaging ten to pound or better, or $15 orchard run.

CIVIC BODY URGES GOVERNOR ROLPH TO SIGN NEW BILL

Protection of Agricultural Enforcing Officers Is Requested

Action urging the immediate signing by Governor James Rolph of assembly bill No. 587, pertaining to protection of enforcing officers of the department of Agriculture, was taken by the Niles chamber of commerce Tuesday noon, when a resolution to send a telegram to that effect was unanimously adopted. The motion was made by W. Kirk, who also stated he was presenting a petition to orchardists and agriculturists in Washington Township for their signatures in endorsing the same proposition.

Mr. Kirk also stated that agricultural inspectors had authority to "knock off" all fruits, vegetables, etc., that did not come up to certain specified standards and requirements, and that a recent legal decision had declared such authority unconstitutional, with the consequent result that one of the officers had been sued for $15,000 damages, after having performed his duties according to authorization vested in him by the government department of agriculture.

According to Mr. Kirk, Governor Rolph has until Friday in which to sign the bill, which has already passed the legislature.

Summer Vacation

Members of the chamber of commerce decided on a summer vacation adjournment period to be held during the months of July and August, and that meetings would recommence the first week in September. In doing this, the chamber followed the procedure adopted in past years.

President F. V. Jones announced that reports from the garden committee, the house-numbering committee and a report on the part to be taken by the chamber at the state fair to be held soon in Sacramento would occupy the attention of the members before the close of the meeting at the end of the month.

THREE WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS HOLD GRADUATION

Niles, Centerville and Decoto Graduate 86 Pupils During Week

Three Township grammar schools held commencement exercises during the past week, Niles, Centerville and Decoto graduating a combined total of eighty-six pupils who received diplomas entitling them to enter Washington Union High school in the fall.

Niles led the three schools with a total of thirty-two graduates, while Centerville and Decoto were close behind with classes of twenty-nine and twenty-five respectively.

Mission San Jose grammar school will graduate a class of seven in the I. D. E. S. building this evening, and Newark grammar school will hold their exercises in the school auditorium on Friday evening, when nineteen students will be given their sheepskins. The Newark school exercises will concluude all educational activities in Washington Township until the fall semester opens.

May Attend Exercises

More than six hundred people witnessed the exercises of the Niles Grammar school in the Veterans' Memorial building, when John Burnett, of San Jose, gave a splendid talk, taking as his subject the class motto "Strive To Win," and emphazising to the graduates the absolute need of always living up to that motto. Pupils of the seventh and eighth grades presented a very humorous short three-act play, "No Girls Admitted," which met with the applause and praise of all present. The balance of the interesting program was carried through very smoothly and was much enjoyed.

Children of the primary grades at Decoto grammar school took the principal part in the exercises held Thursday evening, presenting a play, "A Doll's Symposium," under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Fairbanks.

A two-act play, "Paper Prayers," was presented by members of the graduating class of Centerville grammar school, assisted by pupils of the seventh grade, at exercises held in the High school auditorium on Friday evening, when an exceedingly large audience were in attendance, voicing their congratulations to the graduates and to those who contributed towards the success of the evening.

Pleasanton Drops Hard Fought Game On Sunday To Livermore Baseballers

Final Score Is 8 to 7—Return Game Will Be Played on June 21

Pleasanton Y. M. I. baseballers dropped a terrifically fought game with Livermore last Sunday afternoon after having the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth inning with only one down.

The locals were unable to score and the contest went to Livermore by the count of 8 to 7. This was the first of a three-game series. The next contest will be played in Livermore on Sunday afternoon June 21.

The game Sunday was a thriller from start to finish. The score was tied up three different times. The Pleasanton boys out hit their opponents by the count of 10 to 6.

Pleasanton completed four double plays, all of which were nice to watch. Mongoia on first base made one unassisted. Kelly to Mongoia accounted for two such killings. Mongoia to Vervais accounted for the other.

On the bags the Pleasanton lads were whirlwinds. Governor pilfered five bases. Farria and Cole of Livermore, Marsh, Paulo Mongoia and Amadee stole one each. Governor had a perfect day at bat with five hits in five times up. Mongoia clouted out a triple.

Anselmo went the route for the Y. M. I. He fanned seven. Cchultz, Livermore moundsman, made eleven whiff.

There was one bad decision by the umpire which might have changed the outcome had it been called correctly. Mongoia had line a three bagger when two were down. He was given the signal to steal home, which he did.

The umpire of bases called the play as he saw it from down the third base line and the runner was retired. The Livermore catcher failed to tag the runner with the ball, striking him with his elbow and not the ball.

Trustees Let Contract for Erecting Fence at Tennis Courts

Purchase of a new fifty-passenger Fageol bus has been recommended to the District Attorney's office by the board of trustees of Washington Union High school, the decision being made at a meeting held at the school on Monday morning. The new bus, which will cost approximately $6,600, is to take the place of the old Moreland bus, driven by H. M. Kibby on the Niles-Decoto run.

The trustees also decided to let J. Mooney, of Hayward, erect fences and gates around the four new tennis courts recently completed at the high school. Mooney will erect the necessary posts and do all necessary painting. It is expected that the courts will be finally completed and ready for playing by the early part of July.

Insurance on the new school gymnasium was allocated to various insurance agents throughout the township.

Commencement Exercises Held in Auditorium of High School

Graduation exercises of the Centerville Grammar school held in the High school auditorium on Friday evening, June 12, were attended by a large and appreciative audience.

David Martin, county superintendent of schools, followed with a brief address to the graduates and a word of praise for the work accomplished during the past year.

"Paper Prayers," an operetta presented by the seventh and eighth grades, under the direction of Mrs. George Silva, was one of the best school productions ever given. The solo parts and choruses were rendered in a manner that testified to excellent training. The stage settings and accessories were made entirely by the pupils, and together with the colorful Japanese costumes, made a scene of real beauty.

On Friday evening, June 12, Niles troop conducted the investure ceremony upon five members of the Centerville troop, when some fancy and intricate marching was displayed to the visiting boys. After games had been played, refreshments were served by the Niles troop. An interesting speech relative to Eagle scouts was made by Philip Souza, of Centerville troop, and he explained why Commander Byrd took an eagle scout with him on his trip to the Antarctic.

Eagle scout Mervyn Blacow gave a talk on camp life, and urged all boys to attend a camp during the summer months. Scoutmaster Green gave a detailed account of the trip of the western states he was shortly going to take in company with scout Frank Ferry, who also gave a few words. Assistant scoutmaster Lawrence Pine also gave the boys a short talk.

Scoutmaster Marshall Green and scout Frank Ferry left Monday morning, June 15, for an extended trip of the western states. The trip is being made by automobile.

Many questions on scouting were brought up at a recent committee meeting at the Niles scout house, when H. L. Hopkins, field executive for southern Alameda county, was present. During the meeting refreshments were served.

In a short talk to the boys, Mr. Hopkins stated that one way to further scouting was for the boys to let their girl friends wear their highest ranking badge. When informed of this by scoutmaster Green, sixteen of the boys stopped at "Big Sisters" home, and presented her with badges ranging from tenderfoot emblems to Eagle scout awards. Possibly "Big Sister" may do a lot for scouting now, but if she ever shows up on the streets with alll sixteen badges on display, the inner workings of Niles Boy Scout Troop No. 1 will probably receive a decided set-back, as a result of the internal friction caused by jealous rivals!

MORE ON HETCH HETCHY

or deep tunnel cuts through underground water courses. In the Hetch Hetchy tunnel the surface will be carefully and thoroughly concreted to shut out any local water. The result will be that the underground local water will continue to feed into local supplies.

Little Behind Schedule.

In spite of all criticism and fault finding because of supposed delay and slowness, the Hetch Hetchy system promises to be finished within a year of the time originally set for its completion. It was planned to have the tunnel finished by 1932. Unusual difficulties with swelling ground, slides and gas have caused another year to be added. It was estimated that the Spring Valley system would afford sufficient supply until 1932. A succession of years of scanty run-off and the absolute absence this year of floods has brought on a critical shortage and forced the city to appeal to the East Bay Muncipal Utility district for an emergency supply. Fortunately for the entire bay region the Mokelumne supply brought in two years ago has proved ample enough to supply both sides of the bay until the next rainy season arrives. When it reached here in June, 1929 there was barely a month's supply left in the East Bay reservoirs. It is very gratifying to the writer that some of the most satisfactory work accomplished since 1913 was the ten year effort in the East Bay cities in effectively agitating the need of a Sierra mountain supply and helping materially to organize the East Bay Municipal Utility District. The utility district has saved both sides of the bay from a terrible

Causes for Delay

Those who wish to be fair to San Francisco should consider a few of the things that have caused the delay in the completion of her water project. In 1910 a bond issue of $45,000,000 was voted to bring in a 60 million gallon daily supply from Lake Eleanor. Before the work could be started the city was forced to fight an attempt by Secretary Ballinger to take away a large part of her Hetch Hetchy area. In the Raker bill which finally settled her rights in the latter part of 1913, the city was compelled to develop electric energy and do it immediately as well as to develop the water supply. This caused a big change in the original plans and in meeting this change the cost was greatly increased. In order to save the perpetual cost of lifting the water over the coast range it was decided in adopting the Freeman plan to drive a tunnel and bring the water into San Francisco by gravity. This added further to the original cost that was planned and has also delayed the completion. Another factor which many of the critics overlook is that when San Francisco was making its fight before Congress for the Hetch Hetchy rights the East Bay people all wanted to be counted in on the project. By the time they were organized to act they had changed their minds and wanted to go alone. In order to care for the East Bay cities San Francisco had greatly increased the size of her proposed system and built accordingly in the mountain part of the system. There was a delay of nearly ten years on the East Bay side before San Francisco could learn whether or not we would go in with them. Until our decision was made San Francisco could not definitely decide on a number of features of the system. The war demoralized the bond market for a number of years and it was impossible to float the large issues of bonds necessary to hurry up the work. The city just had to wait until the financial situation had recovered. On top of all this there was the constant and determined and effective opposition of the Spring Valley interests who wanted to unload their properties before Hetch Hetchy became too far advanced. Being actively in the fight against the Spring Valley at the time I remember very distinctly that for a long time it seemed almost impossible to sell the bonds necessary to build the big dam. San Francisco bankers would not put up the money. Finally O'Shaughnessy secured the support of Giannini who in turn secured the co-operation of capital from a city up north and enough bonds were sold to build the O'Shaughnessy dam. That was the turning point in the whole situation. O'Shaughnessy had secured the ultimate completion of the system in securing the building of the dam. Incidentally that was just when our fight against the Spring Valley ended for then we knew the Hetch Hetchy would be finished whether or not Spring Valley was sold to San Francisco. That victory of O'Shaughnessy also decided the East Bay situation and made it impossible for the East Bay Water company to control our situation any longer.

Future Will Favor S. F.

While the compulsion of the Federal government in making San Francisco develop electric energy first made the whole system much more expensive and delayed the construction it will after all prove a great advantage to the city. Hetch Hetchy besides being a great water shed also possesses the greatest number and the best locations for dams of any part of the Sierra Nevada watershed. It will be possible to develop as high as 250,000 horse power in the system and with that of course much more flood water. The money from power development together with the saving in bringing the water into the city by gravity instead of pumping it over the Alameda county hills will prove a great advantage to San Francisco in the future. In the meantime we are all awaiting just one rainy season with plenty of run-off to put the whole water supply question in secure shape. We have done and are doing all that is humanly possible. Our only source of relief now is Mother Nature's storm factory off in the Pacific.

Holy Ghost Fiesta Is Most Successful Held In Many Years

Attendance During Two-Day Celebration Estimated at 5,000

Pleasanton's Holy Ghost festival last Saturday and Sunday was one of the most successful held in the past few years, it was revealed this week by John J. Amaral, general chairman of the fiesta.

The ceremonies got under way at 8 o'clock Saturday evening with a parade from the I. D. E. S. grounds on St. Marys street, where the celebration was held, to St. Augustine's church, where the crown was presented to the queen of the fiesta, Miss Emma Mattos.

After the church services the procession returned to the festival grounds. The entire line of march was lighted with red lights. At the I. D. E. S. hall the parade disbanded. The procession was headed by the high school band, the members of the I. D. E. S. following with the queen and her attendants in the rear.

The attendants to the queen were Nadine Langdon and Bernice Vargas, maids of honor; Isabelle Bonne and Jean Rose, cape bearers; Vivian Mendoza, flower girl; and Bernice Uliani, Helen Freitas, Mary Cardoza and Eleanor Vargas, escorts.

At the grounds there were many concessions for the amusement of the spectators, and a merry-go-round, which was the mecca of the kiddies. The young people were entertained in the I. D. E. S. hall where a dance was conducted with Johnny Zinino and his radio artists furnishing the music.

The Sunday program opened with another parade from the festival grounds to the church where high mass was said by Father Timothy Galvin. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Frank Nevis.

Returning to the grounds after the religious services the parade disbanded and the entertainment features were opened for business. A delicious barbecue was served shortly after noon. The auction of articles donated to the fiesta was held during the afternoon.

An added attraction not on the program amused the spectators during the afternoon when one of the calves which was to be auctioned off, escaped from the corral and led John Amaral a merry chase before he finally captured the animal.

Dancing was resumed Sunday afternoon and continued to the close of the fiesta at 6 p. m. The concessions also were in full operation during the closing hours of the celebration.

The Holy Ghost festival was a financial success this year, according to Amaral. It was estimated that during the two days of the celebration that 5,000 persons visited the grounds.

Diplomas Are Given To Class of 27 At Amador High School

Graduates Completed Work at Commencement Exercises

Before an attentive audience the members of the class of 1931 of Amador Valley Joint Union High School were presented with diplomas by Dr. J. Hal Cope, chairman of the board of trustees, of Pleasanton, at the commencement exercises on Thursday evening.

There were twenty-seven members in the class, the largest group ever to have been graduated from Amador High School. The class was unusual in other respects.

It contained the largest number of honor students that any graduating class has had. It also had the largest number of students honored for their public activities outside of sports.

The valedictory address presented by Miss Freda Gariboldi upon the subject "Mussolini," was extremely interesting and well delivered. A few of the more important statements from her talk follow:

"What Italy really needed (after the close of the World War) was a strong government, and Mussolini was the man to organize it.

"Mussolini was born July 28, 1883 in a small village in northern Italy. His family was muslin dealers and it was from the word "mussilna" meaning muslin that his people got their name.

"After leaving college he became a school teacher. All the time he was teaching he was working with Socialists. He later went to Switzerland but was expelled because of of spreading socialism.

"Continuing his work as a socialist he became editor of the "Avanti," the official Socialist paper. He was now quite a hero but this was not to continue for he started to advocate Italy joining the war on the Allies' side. He was forced to resign from the staff of the Avanti and was expelled from the Socialist party.

"This seemed to make very little difference to him for he soon founded another paper. After the war started he enlisted, was wounded and retired from active duty. He again turned to editing and started work against the Communists, who by this time were quite strong.

"It was for this purpose that he organized the Fascist party. There were forty-five at the first meeting. The party grew rapidly and was favored by the government. They were allowed to use clubs, guns and castor oil to fight the communists.

"In the summer of 1922 the Fasicts started to sieze political power by the ejection of the executive officials from office. Finally Mussolini delivered an ultimatum before a congress of Fascists in Naples, "Either the government will be given to us or we shall sieze it by marching on Rome.'

"They began the march on Rome, but before arriving the king summoned Mussolini to become premier. Immediately after this Mussolini demanded and received almost dictatorial power which he held until the end of 1929.

"He was emancipated from parlimentary control; was made commander-in-chief of the army, navy and air forces; was given the power to veto any item of parliment. It was decreed that anyone who offended him should be punished for a capitol offense. He had newspapers censored, political meetings suppressed. Many people opposed to him were either exiled or murdered.

"Mussolini has done one other thing which we are not certain will last. He has come to terms with the pope. (This address was prepared before the current trouble between the state and the church in Italy.) The trouble between the government and the Catholic See started in 1870 when Rome was siezed by the Italian forces and was made the capital of the Italian Kingdom. By this move the pope was deprived of a great deal of territory. For years the church and government attempted to reach an agreement, but it seemed in vain.

"Mussolini was especially eager to end this long standing quarrel so he expressed his earnest desire to enter into negotiations with the pope. Pope Pius XI favored his idea - - after more than two years an agreement was finally reached. It was agreed that Italy should recognize the Vatican City as an independent state under the rule of the pope.

"Mussolini's next step was to recover territory lost through the weakness of the former government. The more he recovered the more popular he became with the Italian people he benefited. But you will agree with me when I say he was making himself unpopular with the rest of the world.

"Another thing which made him unpopular was his failure to come to terms with France in the naval conference.

"It is true that Mussolini is almost an absolute dictator but by this policy Italy has progressed. The unbalanced economic situation that Italy found after the war has been remedied to some extent. Socialism and Communism have been repressed. On the whole Italy has benefitted by Mussolini."

Miss Gariboldi had the honor of having been an honor student for her entire high school course of four years. Evelyn Silveria also was an honor student for the entire senior year. Six others in the senior class were honor pupils for the last marking period.

There were five students who ranked as honor pupils for the entire year just completed. Merle Kamp, freshman; Constance Compagna, sophomore; Blair Logue, junior; and the Misses Gariboldi and Silveria, seniors; were those given recognization during the commencement program.

To rank as a year honor student, the pupil must have been on the honor roll all but once for the entire number of marking periods.

The departing seniors offered as its gift to the Pleasanton school the annual which it spent many months to prepare. The presentation was made by Ed Gomes, president of the senior class.

Those who were honored for excellence in public activities outside of sports for the entire high school course were: Myron Azevedo, William Bottini, Lloyd Gomes, Frank Paulo, Olive Tripp, and Edward Vervais. These students were presented with gold pins bearing the letter "A."

Diplomas were presented to the following:

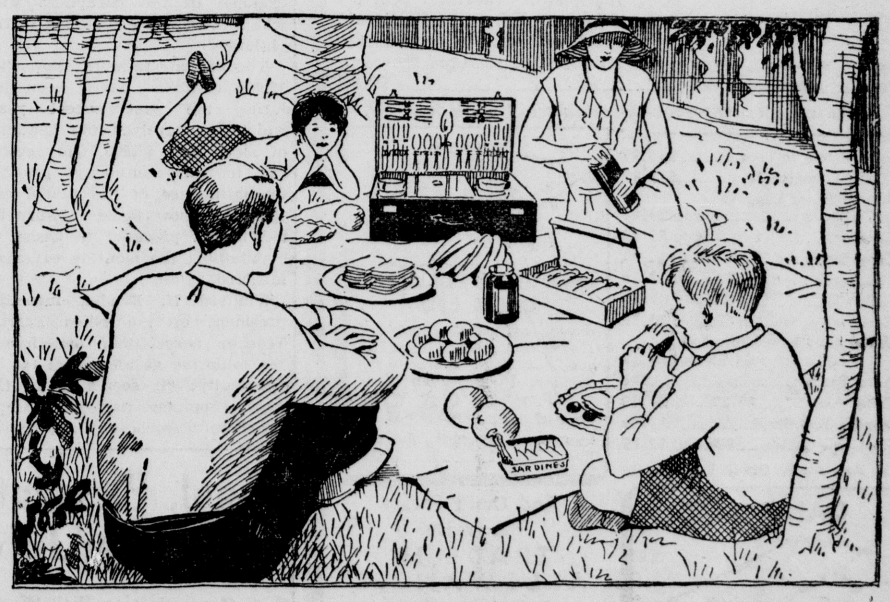
PICNICS—NOW AND THEN



OR, then and now—if you like. Now, we give these outings all sorts of new names and new occasions: the apple blossom luncheon with bridge tables under merry striped umbrellas; beach supper with music and dancing in the moonlight; companionate dinner, with each guest bearing in their car a different course, hot or cold, in thermos pack.

But, after all, they are very much the same old picnics, born of the out-of-door and food urge, which prompted mother to work late the night before, icing the cup cakes and deviling eggs, father to carry the basket and fishing tackle, and the whole family, basket and bundle laden, to meet the So-and So's, likewise laden, at the street car station where mothers would invariably discover an alarming similarity in sandwiches and fathers look with concern at clouds gathering in the sky.

New Trend in Foods

But proof that "a good time was had by all," is the fact that annually we picnic. And when we think of picnics the first food that pops into our minds is sandwiches. True, sandwiches sound rather uninteresting, but they can taste very interesting and delicious if they follow the new trend which combines many things to produce either the appetiser type of sandwich—blended with cheese, pickles, capers and that sort of thing—or the sweet sandwich fillings which use fruit, nuts, honey and perhaps a bit of preserves.

As for the time-honored "deviled egg," it has developed from a mustard-salt-and-pepper seasoned affair into something that is more like a salad, using chopped olives, creamy mayonnaise, and bits of pimiento for stuffing, and nested in a lettuce heart like a bud among leaves.

For salads, the popular way is to use both fresh and canned fruits in unusual combinations, pack them into tightly-covered jars and take along lettuce wrapped in waxed paper, ready to serve with the salad.

Small cakes, such as petit fours, are replacing the old-time family layer cake for outings, because they are easier to carry and there is less waste, if one finds the helping too generous at the end of the feast.

Drinks—since the days when mother squeezed a few lemons and added sugar, depending on the water supply at the picnic grounds—have been very much on the up and up. The modern thermos jug contains fruit shakes and cocktails, punches and rickeys as deliciously blended and iced as if they were served at home.

How would you like to picnic with some of these good things?

Sardine and Olive Sandwich: Bone and mash one can of sardines. Mix with one tablespoon of chopped ripe olives, one tablespoon of lemon juice, two tablespoons of chopped pickled beets and three tablespoons of mayonnaise. Spread between thinly-sliced white bread.

Banana Pineapple Sandwiches: Mash two bananas, add one-fourth tablespoon of lemon juice, one-fourth cup of drained crushed pineapple and two tablespoons of honey. Add one-half cup of grated mild cheese or cream cheese. Cream well and use between buttered slices of brown bread.

Grapefruit and Grape Salad: Drain and chill one No. 2 can of grapefruit and one cup of seeded white grapes. Add chopped canned pimiento and chopped green pepper. Make a French dressing, using the grapefruit syrup instead of vinegar. Serve on lettuce hearts.

Cool and Colorful

Lime and Prune Punch: Mix together the juice from one No. 3 can of prunes and one-fourth cup of lime juice. Add two cups of water and chill.

Iced Orange Coffee: Wash two oranges and pare off a thin paring of the outer skin, being careful to get none of the white fibre. Boil one-half cup of sugar, one cup of water and the orange skin together for ten minutes. Cool, strain and add four cups of cold coffee. Just before serving add the juice from the two oranges and one-half cup of evaporated milk. Chill thoroughly.

Potato and Pea Salad: Marinate very thoroughly one No. 2 can of peas and two cups of diced boiled potatoes in French dressing. Add one-half cup of diced pickled beets and one tablespoon of chopped onion, and moisten with mayonnaise. Serve in lettuce nests.

Parent-Teachers Ask Aid to Continue Cafeteria

Annual reports of the Niles Parent-Teacher association, recently released, show that the organization closed the past year with a financial deficit. According to a prominent member of the organization, the deficit is mainly attributable to the loss sustained in maintaining the grammar school cafeteria, which has been running on an average monthly loss of between $30 and $40, caused as a result of the extremely low prices charged for meals. Seven cents for a meat dish with two bread and butter sandwiches is a typical example of the cheapness with which the meals are served to the children.

The annual statistics show that 12,000 children have been fed during the past school year, which has involved the handling of more than $1,500, and according to good authority, possible discontinuance of the school cafeteria is now faced if financial aid is not procured to assist in maintaining the monthly expenses incurred.

Winifred H. Bendel, incoming president of the Niles Parent-Teacher association, has issued the following as an appeal to the community: "It seems to be the general opinion that the Parent-Teachers association is responsible for the school cafeteria. We are not, and in fact, we are violating Parent-Teachers association state by-laws when we spend our money and energy in this channel, and in doing so neglecting the regular established Parent-Teachers association departments. The only sense in which a Parent-Teacher organization is concerned in a cafeteria, is that if the women see the necessity of such an undertaking in their community, they may undertake to establish that necessity to ascertain if it is a practical and beneficial venture. If it proves to be successful they should then ask their proper authorities to undertake the responsibility in maintaining that necessity in the community and thus permit the Parent-Teachers association to devote its attentions along its regular established purposes.

Our local P.-T. A. women are now asking that this community so assume the responsibility of the cafeteria, which the schooll staff has whole-heartedly and unanimously pronounced a decided necessity and a beneficial aid to increased student efficiency, and we beg the community as a whole to support and aid those who advocate the continuance of

Sunol, Pleasanton Will Combine For July Fourth Program

Two Communities Will Work Through Lions Club as Last Year

Pleasanton and Sunol will combine through the Pleasanton Lions club to enter into the Fourth of July celebration at Livermore, it was learned this week. This was the plan followed out last year and proved very successful, with the combined units carrying away the honors of the show. The Sunol entry was the outstanding display of the parade.

While it is not thought that the entries from Pleasanton township will be as elaborate as last year, it is certain that the floats will do the two communities credit.

It is understood also that the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce will enter a float as it has in the past. The exact nature of the display has not been decided upon, according to Crawford Letham, president of that organization.

The Fourth of July celebration is to be in the nature of a covered wagon revival, it was said. It is understood that there are any number of those old time vehicles available to the Pleasanton township committee.

Plans for the celebration are being worked out by Charles Graham, chairman of the Pleasanton Lions club committee on the Fourth of July program. A detailed report is expected from the committee by the Lions at their next meeting, Tuesday, June 15.
